INSTRUCTIONS FOR AR1000RC5

A developmental disability is a disability which:

- (A) (i) Is attributable to intellectual disability, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, or autism; or
 - (ii) Is attributable to any other condition found to be closely related to intellectual disability because it results in an impairment of general intellectual functioning or adaptive behavior similar to that of intellectually disabled persons or requires treatment and services similar to those required for such persons; or
 - (iii) Is attributable to dyslexia resulting from a disability described in (A)(i) of this section; and
- (B) Originates before the person attains the age of twenty-two (22) years; and
- (C) Has continued or can be expected to continue indefinitely; and
- (D) Constitutes a substantial handicap to the person's ability to function without appropriate support services including, but not limited to, planned recreational activities, medical services such as physical therapy and speech therapy, and possibilities for sheltered employment or job training.

DIAGNOSED DISABILITY:

1. Intellectual disability: Individuals will be eligible for services if their I.Q. scores fall two or more standard deviations below the mean of a standardized test or their condition is closely related to intellectual disability by virtue of their adaptive behavior function and the nature of the treatment and services they require. You must enter the I.Q. score or check the intellectual disability level in the space provided on the front of the form.

NOTE: The individual must be eligible for admission into an intermediate care facility for intellectual disability (ICF/MR). To meet ICF/MR level of care, an individual must have substantial functional limitation in three or more of the following areas of major life activity:

- A) Self Care: Ability to care for one's own toileting, grooming, dressing, and eating needs.
 - B) Understanding and Use of Language: Ability to communicate needs and responses to others using a formal speech system.
 - C) Learning: Ability to process information, retain it, and apply it to different situations as appropriate to the individual's age level.
 - D) Mobility: Ability to move self from place to place either by walking or propelling adaptive equipment.
 - E) Self-Direction: Ability to make appropriate decisions regarding time, travel, finances, and health.
 - F) Capacity for Independent Living: Ability to cook, shop, clean, and otherwise maintain self in an independent living situation.
2. Cerebral palsy: As established by the results of a medical examination by a licensed physician.
 3. Epilepsy: As established by the results of a neurological examination by a licensed neurologist and/or licensed physician.
 4. Autism: As established by the results of a team evaluation by a licensed physician and a licensed psychologist or psychological examiner.

Check the appropriate box of the Developmental Disability, and list the I. Q. score (if required) in the space provided on the AR1000RC5.

NOTE: Each of these four conditions, independent of each other, is sufficient for determination of eligibility. This means a person who has been diagnosed as intellectually disabled does not have to have autism, epilepsy, or cerebral palsy. Conversely, a person who has autism, cerebral palsy, or epilepsy does not have to be intellectually disabled to receive services.
